

University of Rhode Island Physical Therapy Department
5th Annual Distinguished Lecture Series

Know Pain or No Gain: A Practitioner's Playbook for a Biopsychosocial Approach to Musculoskeletal Pain

Presented by:

Dr. Steven George, PT, PhD, FAPTA

Duke University

Professor, Director of Musculoskeletal Research, Duke Clinical Research Institute, Vice Chair of Clinical Research, Orthopaedic Surgery

Saturday, October 19th, 2019

University of Rhode Island Campus

6.5 CEU Credits

About The Distinguished Lecture Series

The Distinguished Lecture Series serves as an annual professional development offering hosted by the University of Rhode Island's Physical Therapy Department. Each year, an internationally recognized physical therapist whose accomplishments have impacted an area of healthcare will be invited to be our guest. In addition to providing a quality educational program and networking opportunity, this event serves as a fundraiser for our students. 100% of the net proceeds will be earmarked for our students to attend professional conferences.

For more information you can email: distinguishedlecturerseries@etal.uri.edu

Event Pricing

$150 General Admission
$450 Buy Three, Get Additional One Free (all 4 from same institution)
$1000 Sponsor (name on program and 9 registrations)
$75 URI PT Alumni
$25 Outside students

Event Time

7:30am - 8:30am - Registration (With Continental Breakfast)
8:30am - 5:00pm (Light Lunch and Coffee Provided)

To Register please visit - <http://bit.ly/URIPTDLS>

Distinguished Lecture Series History

2014 George Davies, DPT, MED, PT, SCS, ATC, LAT, CSCS, PES, FAPTA

*Advances in Examination and Treatment of Patients with Selected Shoulder Conditions:
Emphasis on Evidence-Based Practice*

2015 Jennifer Bottomley, PhD, MS, PT

Geri-Neuro

2016 Irene Davis, PhD, PT, FACSM, FAPTA, FASB

Innovative Approaches to the Injured Runner

2017 Chad Cook, PT, PhD, MBA, FAAOMPT

Monday Morning Examination and Treatment Techniques for the Cervical Spine